1 I, Jessica Karp Bansal, declare:

2 1. I am an attorney at law duly licensed and entitled to practice in the State of
3 California. I am an attorney with the National Day Laborer Organizing Network and counsel
4 of record in this action. I make this declaration in support of Plaintiffs' Motion for
5 Compliance with Court Order [ECF 162]. I have personal knowledge of the following facts
6 and, if called as a witness, I could and would testify competently as follows.

7 2. On Thursday, June 12, 2025, I emailed counsel for Defendants regarding 8 inaccuracies on USCIS's webpage for Venezuela's TPS designation that rendered the 9 webpage inconsistent with this Court's May 30, 2025 Order (ECF No. 162). Counsel for 10 Defendants did not respond. Today, June 17, 2025, I again emailed counsel for Defendants
11 and requested Defendants' position on Plaintiffs' intended Administrative Motion for Order
12 Shortening Time and Setting Schedule re: Plaintiffs' Motion for Compliance with Court
13 Order [ECF 162]. Defendants' counsel responded and stated, with regard to the webpage
14 inaccuracies, that they "are checking on this issue," and that Defendants would oppose any
15 motion to shorten time. A true and correct copy of this email exchange is attached as Exhibit
16 A.

17 3. Attached as Exhibit B is a true and correct copy of the USCIS webpage
18 regarding Venezuela's TPS designation as it appeared on Friday, June 6 at 17:36 GMT.

19 4. Attached as Exhibit C is a true and correct copy of the USCIS webpage
20 regarding Venezuela's TPS designation as it appeared on Monday, June 9 at 19:05 GMT.

21 I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct, and that this
22 declaration was executed in Claremont, California this 17th day of June, 2025.

Subject: [EXTERNAL] Re: NTPSA, USCIS Website

Dear Sarah and Will,

We have not received a response to my email below from last Thursday and so, as we had advised, we will be filing a compliance motion with the Court today. Given the urgency of this issue for NTPSA members who have been laid off from their jobs, we will be also filing a motion to shorten time. We plan to ask that Defendants' response to the compliance motion be due on Friday, Plaintiffs' reply be due on Tuesday, and the hearing be set for next Thursday, June 26. Please let us know Defendants' position on Plaintiffs' motion to shorten time.

Thank you,

Jessica

Dear Sarah and Will,

We write regarding the updated language on USCIS's TPS Venezuela page. The current language fails to accurately represent the court's May 30 order. Under that order, two separate categories of documentation issued to Venezuelan TPS holders pursuant to the January 17 extension remain valid, if received on or before February 5: (1) Forms I-94 and final approvals of TPS applications issued with October 2, 2026 expiration dates; and (2) Notices of Action acknowledging receipt of employment authorization applications and automatically extending employment authorization by 540 days. The USCIS website currently acknowledges the ongoing validity of only the first category of documents. We are aware of NTPSA members whose employers have terminated their employment due to this omission.

To bring the website into compliance with the Court's May 30 order, we ask that the agency make the following changes by no later than Tuesday, June 17, at 9am PT.

First, add the language in red to the Alert at the top of the page:

On May 30, 2025, the district court in case No. 3:25-cv-1766 ordered that —pending resolution of the litigation—TPS beneficiaries who received TPS-related employment authorization documents, Forms I-797, Notices of Action, and Forms I-94 issued with October 2, 2026 expiration dates on or before February 5, 2025 will maintain that status, and their documentation will remain valid during the course of the litigation. This includes Notices of Action received on or before February 5, 2025 automatically extending employment authorization by 540 days. All TPS-related documentation with a validity date of October 2, 2026, received after February 5, 2025, is no longer valid and those individuals under the 2023 designation no longer have TPS.

Second add the language in red to the "Employment Authorization Document (EAD) Auto-Extended Through" column of the "2023 Redesignation of Venezuela for TPS" column of the chart immediately below the Alert:

TPS beneficiaries who received Notices of Action on or before February 5, 2025 automatically extending their employment authorization for 540 days will maintain that employment authorization and their automatic extension will remain valid pending resolution of the litigation in National TPS Alliance, et al., v. Kristi Noem et al., No. 3:25-cv-01766 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 31, 2025)

Please let us know if you have any questions. If the agency does not make this change by Tuesday, June 17 at 9am PT, we will seek relief from the Court.

Best,

Jessica

Temporary Protected Status Designated Country: Venezuela

ALERT: On May 19, 2025, the U.S. Supreme Court, in a convincing 8-1 decision, granted the government's emergency stay of Judge Edward Chen's order. See National TPS Alliance, et al., v. Kristi Noem et al., No. 3:25-cv-01766 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 31, 2025). Previously, on Feb. 3, 2025, Secretary of Homeland Security Kristi Noem's vacatur of the Jan. 17, 2025, notice that extended a TPS designation for Venezuela was published in the Federal Register, and on Feb. 5, 2025, the Secretary's decision to terminate TPS under the 2023 designation for Venezuela was published. Based on the Supreme Court's May 19 order, the erroneous March 31, 2025, district court order in case No. 3:25-cv-1766 is stayed pending the disposition of the government's appeal in the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit.

Further updates regarding TPS Venezuela will be posted on this webpage. Separately, TPS under the 2021 designation for Venezuela remains in effect through Sept. 10, 2025.

When to File for TPS

If you currently have TPS under Venezuela's 2023 designation, you must re-register during the re-registration period that runs from Jan. 17, 2025, through Sept. 10, 2025. If you registered under either the March 9, 2021, TPS designation or the Oct. 3, 2023, TPS designation, you may re-register under the Venezuela 2023 extension. If you appropriately apply for TPS or re-register under this Venezuela 2023 Federal Register notice and are approved by USCIS, you will obtain TPS through the same extension date of Oct. 2, 2026.

We encourage you to re-register as soon as possible within the re-registration period.

If you already applied for TPS under Venezuela's 2021 or 2023 designations, and your application was still pending on Jan. 17, 2025, you do not need to file to re-register. If we approve your pending Form I-821, we will grant you TPS through Oct. 2, 2026.

Go to the TPS page for information about registering.

Where to File

If you are applying for TPS Venezuela, you may file Form I-821, Application for Temporary Protected Status, online. When filing an initial TPS application or re-registering for TPS, you can also request an Employment Authorization Document (EAD) by submitting a completed Form I-765, Application for Employment Authorization, online with your Form I-821.

If we approve your application for TPS and you filed Form I-765 and paid the fee for an EAD (or we approved your fee waiver request), we will issue you an EAD with an expiration date of Oct. 2, 2026.

Given the time frames involved with processing TPS re-registration applications, the Federal Register notice automatically extends through April 2, 2026 (pending further litigation), the validity of EADs previously issued under the TPS designation of Venezuela.

For more information on TPS eligibility requirements, what to file, and step-by-step instructions on submitting an initial TPS application package, go to the TPS page. You can find the filing fees for TPS related forms on our Fee Schedule page.

Automatic Employment Authorization Document (EAD) Extension

We have automatically extended through April 2, 2026 (pending further litigation), the validity of EADs with a marked expiration date of Sept. 10, 2025; April 2, 2025; March 10, 2024; or Sept. 9, 2022, issued under the 2021 or 2023 TPS designations of Venezuela. If your EAD is covered through this automatic extension, you may continue to use your existing EAD through April 2, 2026, as evidence you are authorized to work.

To prove that you are authorized to work in the United States, you may show the following documentation to your employer. Government agencies may also accept these documents if they need to determine your immigration status:

- Your TPS-related EAD with a Sept. 10, 2025; April 2, 2025; March 10, 2024; or Sept. 9, 2022, expiration date; and
- A copy of the Federal Register notice announcing the automatic extension.

Your employer may rely on the Federal Register notice as evidence of the continuing validity of your EAD. Go to the Documentation Employers May Accept and Temporary Protected Status Beneficiaries May Present as Evidence of Employment Eligibility page for more information.

If we approve your TPS re-registration application and you paid the fee for a new EAD (or if we approved your fee waiver request), we will issue you a new EAD with the expiration date of Oct. 2, 2026.

For more information on TPS eligibility requirements, what to file, and step-by-step instructions on submitting a re-registration or initial TPS application package, go to the TPS page.

Other Immigration Options

You might be eligible for other immigration options listed on the Explore My Options page.

To apply for a lawful permanent status (Green Card), you must be eligible under one of the categories listed on the Green Card Eligibility Categories page. Once you find the category that may fit your situation, click on the link provided to get information on eligibility requirements, how to apply, and whether your family members can also apply with you.

Note on Seeking Asylum: Being granted and maintaining TPS until a reasonable period before the filing of the asylum application is considered an extraordinary circumstance for the purposes of the one-year filing deadline. In other words, having TPS status “stops the clock” on the requirement to file for asylum within one year of arriving in the United States, if the one-year clock has not already expired. See 8 CFR 208.4(a)(5) (iv).

Temporary Protected Status Designated Country: Venezuela

ALERT: On May 19, 2025, the U.S. Supreme Court, in a devastating 8-1 vindication of the Trump Administration and stinging indictment of judicial activism, granted the government's request for an emergency stay of Judge Edward Chen's order in National TPS Alliance, et al., v. Kristi Noem et al., No. 3:25-cv-01766 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 31, 2025). Based on the Supreme Court's May 19 order, the erroneous March 31, 2025, district court order in case No. 3:25-cv-1766 is stayed pending the disposition of the government's appeal in the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. Thus, TPS for Venezuelans with April 3, 2025 documentation has terminated pursuant to Secretary of Homeland Security Kristi Noem's Feb. 5, 2025 decision to terminate TPS under the 2023 designation for Venezuela. On May 30, 2025, the district court in case No. 3:25-cv-1766 ordered that—pending resolution of the litigation—TPS beneficiaries who received TPS-related employment authorization documents, Forms I-797, Notices of Action, and Forms I-94 issued with October 2, 2026 expiration dates on or before February 5, 2025 will maintain that status, and their documentation will remain valid during the course of the litigation. All TPS-related documentation with a validity date of October 2, 2026, received after February 5, 2026, is no longer valid and those individuals under the 2023 designation no longer have TPS.

Separately, TPS under the 2021 designation for Venezuela remains in effect through September 10, 2025.

TPS beneficiaries who received TPS-related documentation on or before February 5, 2025, with a validity date of October 2, 2026, will maintain that status and their documentation will remain valid pending resolution of the litigation in National TPS Alliance, et al., v. Kristi Noem et al., No. 3:25-cv-01766 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 31, 2025) (pursuant to court order).

If we approve your application for TPS and you filed Form I-765 and paid the fee for an EAD (or we approved your fee waiver request), we will issue you an EAD with an expiration date of Oct. 2, 2026.

Given the time frames involved with processing TPS re-registration applications, the Federal Register notice automatically extends through April 2, 2026 (pending further litigation), the validity of EADs previously issued under the TPS designation of Venezuela.

For more information on TPS eligibility requirements, what to file, and step-by-step instructions on submitting an initial TPS application package, go to the TPS page. You can find the filing fees for TPS related forms on our Fee Schedule page.

Note on Seeking Asylum: Being granted and maintaining TPS until a reasonable period before the filing of the asylum application is considered an extraordinary circumstance for the purposes of the one-year filing deadline. In other words, having TPS status “stops the clock” on the requirement to file for asylum within one year of arriving in the United States, if the one-year clock has not already expired. See 8 CFR 208.4(a)(5) (iv).

Avoid Scams

Please be aware that some unauthorized practitioners may try to take advantage of you by claiming they can file TPS forms. These same individuals may ask that you pay them to file such forms. We want to ensure that all potential TPS applicants know how to obtain legitimate, accurate legal advice and assistance. A list of accredited representatives and free or low-cost legal providers is available on the USCIS finding legal advice webpage.

We don't want you to become a victim of an immigration scam. If you need legal advice on immigration matters, make sure the person helping you is authorized to give legal advice. Only an attorney or an accredited representative working for a Department of Justice (DOJ) recognized organization can give you legal advice. Visit the Avoid Scams page for information and resources.
